

Supply Chain Management Student Organization (SCMSO)

WHO WE ARE

The Supply Chain Management Student Organization (SCMSO) at Texas McCombs exists to promote the undergraduate supply chain management major, inform students about career and internship opportunities, and facilitate engagement with industry professionals. Through direct exposure to supply chain executives and professionals, interactive company site visits, mentorship through the MBA Operations Fellows, peer networking, case competitions, and workshops, we help members extend their supply chain education beyond the classroom. SCMSO is the premier platform to engage with top supply chain management students. Each semester, we host a variety of activities designed to help students learn more about the industry and connect with potential employers. Get involved today!

WHY SCMSO?

- SCMSO partners receive enhanced opportunities to connect with supply chain talent from a top-ranked business program
- Access to SCMSO's Resume Book
- Promote your company's supply chain opportunities through SCMSO's media channels including social media and newsletters
- Interact with students one-on-one or virtually through personalized engagement opportunities
